

My objective is to give you a taste of how fun and powerful it is to use your mind by deploying all your creativity. As an effect it helps you resolving real challenges with serenity.

Learn my language, the language of creativity!
Have Fun!

born in East-Berlin, studied Economics and History at Humboldt University Berlin, Marketing/Management at the ESCP Paris and at the Buckinghamshire College Of Higher Education GB; PhD in economic thinking systems and levels of abstraction in economic theories. I worked as a consultant for the French gouvernement (Education), controller of the European Social Fund for Luxembourg, University teacher in Micro & Macro Economics, co-director of a branding agency in Berlin, and recently as teacher for creative thinking at the Public Art Cooperation Center of Shanghai - PACC and at the University of Wuhan.

N.B. I am also known for my art, winner of the national painter's competition on tv when I was 18. During 2 years part of the vibrant artist community in Philadelphia. I play violin since I am 5 years old and achieved to win with my orchestra the national radio award in classic . I still paint and play as a Violinist for events (endorsed by STAGG) and led lessons in voice training, violin, creativity. I approach challenges from the rational world with methods coming from processes and models of creational thinking and I like to share my experiences.
