

How It Works

Designed for teams of 6-20 people, our workshops take place in your office and require no artistic experience. We bring all materials and equipment, transform your meeting room into a creative workspace, and guide your team through a series of engaging exercises designed to encourage observation, participation and connection.

Over the course of an hour, colleagues are invited to put their devices aside, engage with one another in a different way, and take part in a shared experience that is accessible, inclusive and enjoyable for everyone.

All you need to provide is the team and a room. We'll take care of the rest.

Pricing is per-person and decreases as group size increases. Please contact us for a pricing breakdown.
